

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

Celebrity Artists helps raise awareness about “Identity Theft”

New song sets the record straight about how identity theft affects its victims.

Las Vegas, Nevada-The Original Cornell Gunter’s Coasters have a new song about identity theft. Cornell Gunter’s Coasters, Inc. consists of Charlie Duncan and Lionel Pope. Charlie Duncan has performed continuously with Cornell Gunter’s Coasters, Inc. since 1961.

Duncan has also recorded with Cornell on such songs as “Love In My Heart”. After encountering some identity theft of their own they were inspired to write a new song called

“ID Theft Ain’t No Game”

Identity theft occurs when someone uses your personally identifying information, like your name, Social Security number, or credit card number, without your permission, to commit fraud or other crimes.

Identity theft is serious. While some identity theft victims can resolve their problems quickly, others spend hundreds of dollars and many days repairing damage to their good name and credit record. Some consumers victimized by identity theft may lose out on job opportunities, or be denied loans for education, housing or cars because of negative information on their credit reports. In rare cases, they may even be arrested for crimes they did not commit.

One ongoing problem is with original performing Artists. With the help of the real Jon “Bowzer” Bauman former bass singer for the group Sha, Na, Na, the Truth In Music Bill was created to protect the artists from Identity theft and to protect the Consumer from being mis-lead to believe they are seeing the legendary artists that made the hits songs famous - when in fact they are not.
